In recent years, he was Corporate Secretary and a member of the Executive Committee of the BRED Group. The areas he oversaw included governance, corporate and internal communication, legal risk management, compliance and cybersecurity. He sat on the Board of eight French and international subsidiaries.

Vincent Gros is a member of the Institut Français des Administrateurs (French Institute of Administrators).

He is a graduate of Sciences Po Paris and the University of Reading.

The mission of the Fonds de Garantie des Dépôts et de Résolution (FGDR) is to protect and compensate customers in the event that their banking or financial institution fails. Created by the law of 25 June 1999 on savings and financial security, the FGDR intervenes before a failure on a preventative or resolution basis, or pays compensation to customers in the event of a failure. It covers 530 member institutions and manages three mechanisms: the deposit guarantee scheme, the investor compensation scheme and the performance bonds guarantee scheme. A banking crisis operator in support of responsible finance, the FGDR plays a key role in ensuring the stability of the French banking system. www.garantiedesdepots.fr
